Provide a visual description of your community

Bonterra is a gated, active-lifestyle community within Woodforest. The award-winning developers of Johnson Development Corp. started with a vision. They imagined a new master-planned community with a small-town feel, one that would include first-rate amenities and stunning homes designed to suit the needs of residents at all stages of life. For the site of this project, they chose 3,000 acres of wooded terrain bordering the Woodforest Golf Club in South Montgomery County. They were determined to create an alluring retreat among the trees, preserving the natural beauty of the forested land in the area.
